

Little Lambs Toddler Group

Coronavirus Update

We just wanted to post an update about Little Lambs.

Unfortunately, at present, we have no restart date for our toddler group but we will continue to monitor the situation as the regulations become clearer.

The relevant advice for toddler group activities comes under the community and multi purpose venue guidance. This allows venues to open and for activities to resume, however, there are limitations on this and practicalities that make running groups challenging. The simple answer is that toddler groups can be restarted, but the accompanying requirements mean it is unlikely to be workable for them to do so.

The two key limiting factors are that social interaction between more than two households indoors is strongly advised against and that shared items such as toys should not be used - the combination of these are really not compatible with running a toddler group!

Nurseries and formal childcare providers have far greater flexibility in how they operate.

We are missing the buzz of Thursday mornings and hope we can get back together again soon!
